BATTLE OF BALLOTS

Where Elections Are Being Held Today.

ELEVEN STATES INTERESTED.

Five States, Ohio, New York, Massachusetts, Iowa and Maryland Elect Governors and Other State Officers, While Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Nebraska, Mississippi, Colorado and Virginia, Elect Minor Officers.

THE CONTEST IN OHIO.

A United States Senator Involved in Today's Election.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3.—Today's contest at the polls will go into history as the most amicable as well as one of the most earnest and enthusiastic political contests ever known in Ohio. It has been conducted on both sides with decency and free from indulgence in personal abuse. The campaign has been fought on national issues almost exclusively, with the understanding that the successful candidate would make a strong bid for the presidential nomination by his party. Silver and the tariff have been the themes discussed on the stump and in the public press, but state issues have received some attention during the past fortnight.

There are four tickets in the field, headed by William McKinley, Republican; James E. Campbell, Democrat; John J. Ashenbush, Prohibition, and John Seitz, People's party.

The returns from Hamilton county are anxiously looked for as an important factor in the general result. One-eighth of the population of the state is assembled here. A large plurality in this city, either way, will settle the contest. Two years ago Campbell carried Hamilton county by 7,000. Republicans aver that McKinley will have a plurality of equal proportions this year. Democrats do not agree with them. The thirteen members of the legislature from Hamilton county will have a potent influence on the complexion of that body, which will decide the senatorial contest. Should the Republicans be victorious, a very interesting fight will be inaugurated in the legislature between Sherman and Foraker. Sherman is very strong in the party and Foraker has a large and influential following. As to the relative strength of the two men little can be known definitely until the legislature is chosen.

In the event of the People's party having the balance of power in the legislature a new man for senator will be chosen. "Anything to beat Sherman" is their cry.

The Australian ballot is being used for the first time, and there are so many tickets in the field that it is impossible to estimate its effects on the result. For the first time in the history of the party the Prohibitionists have a complete ticket in every voting precinct of the entire state. The People's party, headed by John Seitz, is also liable to cut a prominent figure in the result, some of its adherents claiming as high as 100,000 votes. Many conservatives concede he will get 50,000 votes.

In the past thirty years Ohio has gone Democratic seven times. The Republicans have not failed to carry the state at every presidential election during this period. In 1889 Governor Campbell received 10,873 plurality. Last year the Republicans carried the state by 10,000, when there were 743,186 votes polled. It is believed that 800,000 votes will be cast this year.

Year.	Name.	Plurality.
1875	R. B. Hayes	5,544
1877	R. M. Bishop	25,580
1879	Charles Foster	17,120
1881	Charles Foster	24,309
1883	George Hoadly	12,529
1885	Joseph B. Foraker	17,451
1887	Joseph B. Foraker	23,399
1889	James E. Campbell	10,873

The election in Ohio is considered the most important of any being held today as already telegrams are pouring in from many outside states asking for estimates of the result in Ohio.

IN NEW YORK.

A Memorable Campaign of National Interest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The election today is the climax of one of the most memorable campaigns of the state. There are three tickets in the field and the following offices are to be filled: Governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, comptroller, treasurer, engineer and surveyor. Also congressmen from the Tenth and Twelfth districts, ten justices of the state supreme court and a legislature. R. P. Flower heads the Democratic ticket, J. Sloat Fassett, Republican, and J. B. Bruce Prohibitionist.

The campaign in this great political battle ground has been unique. Never have greater interests, from the partisan standpoint, been involved; never has a canvass been conducted with greater earnestness and industry; never has a fight been waged on such narrow issues. National issues have been totally ignored, although everybody understands that the result of this election may decide the presidential contest next year.

The situation is not without other novel aspects. We behold Grover Cleveland and George William Curtis, The New York Times and The Evening Post arrayed on opposite sides.

The contest presents every indication of uncertainty. The reports are so conflicting and the issues and interests so diverse that those best informed hesitate about making an unprejudiced prediction. The Republicans are more aggressive than they have been for years, and the Democrats are fighting desperately to maintain their ascendancy in the state. Not since 1879 have the Republicans elected a governor, and their victory was then due to a split in the Democracy. But this year the Republican leaders appear sanguine of success.

Both parties have made strong bids for the labor vote, which is pretty well divided.

Ten supreme court justices and a legislature will be elected. The tidal wave of last year gave the legislature to the Democrats on joint ballot. As this is not a tidal wave year the Republicans feel confident of success. A change in only five districts will give the Republicans a majority in the next assembly, and they feel secure in the senate.

Each side is confident of victory, and the managers of the two chief parties are spending their time today figuring majorities. Basing their calculations upon the vote of 1888, and the registration of the present year, the Republicans figure out 17,759 majority for Fassett, and on the same basis the Democrats calculated 24,800 majority for Flower.

The following table shows the result of the elections for governor for the past sixteen years:

Year.	Name.	Rep.	Dem.
1874	Samuel Tilden	50,317	50,317
1876	Lucius Robinson	80,460	80,460
1878	Alonzo B. Cornell	42,777	42,777
1880	Grover Cleveland	192,854	192,854
1882	David B. Hill	11,134	11,134

MASSACHUSETTS.

Four Tickets in the Field for the Suffrage of the People.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—There are four tickets being voted in the election in this state today. Democratic, Republican, Prohibition and People's party. Massachusetts elects governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general and auditor. Also a legislature.

The leading candidates on each ticket are Charles H. Allen, Republican; William E. Russell, Democrat; Charles H. Kimball, Prohibitionist, and Henry Winn, People's party.

The Prohibitionists have made a vigorous canvass, with the assistance of Rev. Sam Small and other outside orators.

This has been essentially a stump speech campaign. Allen, Lodge, Hoar, Crapo and ex-Speaker Reed have held forth for the Republicans and Russell, Corcoran and Roger Q. Mills have held aloft the Democratic banner.

The tariff and silver questions have been the themes on every platform. Both parties declare for sound money, but the Democrats have vigorously assailed the Republican silver legislation of the last congress. Of local issues the constitutional amendment to repeal the poll tax is of paramount interest. Democrats favor the repeal; Republicans are noncommittal.

The Democratic tidal wave of last year carried Governor Russell into the executive office with a plurality of 9,000. The remainder of the Democratic ticket was defeated by from 6,500 to 8,200. There are so many elements of uncertainty in the present canvass that it is impossible to predict the result.

A legislature also will be elected. The Republicans had a majority of 41 in the last house, while the senate was a tie.

IOWA.

Tariff and Prohibition the Principal Issues in This State.

DES MOINES, Nov. 3.—Iowa, this old time Republican stronghold, occupies the novel position of a doubtful state this year. The officers to be elected are governor, lieutenant governor, supreme judge, superintendent of public instruction and railroad commissioner, also a legislature. There are three tickets in the field, Democratic, Republican and Prohibition, which are headed by Horace Boies, Democrat; Hiram C. Wheeler, Republican, and Isaac T. Gibson, Prohibitionist.

The Democratic victory of two years ago first astounded and then aroused the Republicans. They entered this contest determined to regain their lost ground, and the Democrats were no less determined to retain their own ascendancy. The result has been a campaign of unprecedented industry and activity. Iowa fairly sizzles with excitement. The battle has been fought on the tariff and prohibition issues.

In 1889 Governor Boies was elected by a plurality of 6,500. In round numbers he received 180,000 votes. His vote was substantially the same as that received by Cleveland in 1888, while the Republican vote was less than that cast for Harrison. It is an interesting question what is to become of these votes this year. The Republican hope of success is based upon the probability of getting enough of the Republicans who staid at home in 1889 to turn the scale in their favor.

There has been a spirited contest for control of the legislature. In the event of Democratic success, the Michigan scheme of electing presidential electors by congressional districts will probably be tried.

MARYLAND.

A Legislature That Will Elect Senator Gorman's Successor.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—Maryland today elects a governor, attorney general, clerk of the court of appeals and controller. The gubernatorial candidates are Frank Brown, Democrat, and William G. Vannort, Republican. The campaign has been fought on national issues principally, and the force bill and the tariff have borne the brunt of the fray. Both gubernatorial candidates have made a personal canvass of the state, but the campaign was rather sluggish until the Democrats were aroused by an independent movement.

Farmer Brown's ticket will probably be elected, although the revolt of the Independent Democrats in this city and other localities gives some encouragement to the Republicans.

Baltimore elects a mayor, and there is a spirited contest for control of the city government.

Six constitutional amendments are submitted to the people, and a legislature will be elected. The legislature will elect United States Senator Gorman's successor.

Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3.—The state ticket being voted today is a short one, only two offices to be filled, that of auditor general, in which D. M. Gregg is the Republican candidate and R. E. Wright the Democrat, and state treasurer, J. W. Morrison, Republican, and A. L. Tilden, Democrat.

The result largely depends upon the vote of Philadelphia. A Republican majority of 20,000 in that city will probably be sufficient to carry the ticket. Delamater carried Philadelphia last year by 20,988 and was defeated. But the Democratic vote in the rural districts was unprecedented, and no such tidal wave is expected here.

The Democrats hope to reduce the normal Republican plurality in Philadelphia and have conducted a vigorous campaign in that city on both local and state tickets.

The proposition for a constitutional convention does not seem to be thoroughly understood by the people, and it is difficult to predict the result of the vote on that question.

The Prohibitionists will not poll many votes.

New Jersey.

NEWTON, Nov. 3.—This is what is known as an "off year" in New Jersey. Members of the legislature are to be voted for. Nevertheless, considerable interest has been infused into the contest by the ambition of Governor Abbott to strengthen himself as a candidate for the United States senate. By virtue of the redistricting act of the last legislature the state should be safely Democratic, but Governor Abbott's vigorous canvass has aroused such dissensions within the dominant party that Republicans cherish some hopes of capturing the lower house.

The last senate contained 14 Democrats and 7 Republicans. Seven senators are to be elected this year. Two of the retiring senators are Republicans and 5 are Democrats. In order to retain control of the senate the Democrats need elect only 3 new senators. The Republicans must elect 7 to gain a majority.

An entire house of assembly will be elected. The last house contained 40 Democrats and 20 Republicans.

In Kansas.

TOPEKA, Nov. 3.—Kansas elects town and county officers and does not display much excitement about it, although considerable interest has been developed in some localities. In the majority of counties Republican, Democratic and Alliance tickets are in the field. There is some fusion between Democrats and the Alliance, but the Democratic state committee disclaims all responsibility for it. There has been no great expenditure of eloquence. Senator Peffer and Congressman Burton indulged in a few joint debates, discussing the People's party platform, without arousing much interest.

Senatorial Contest in Mississippi.

JACKSON, Nov. 3.—The monotony of the legislative campaign in this state is relieved by the machinations of Congressman Barksdale, who covets the office held by United States Senator George. Although the legislature will be Democratic, the Alliance influence is powerful. Major Barksdale will endeavor to induce the legislature to instruct George to support the sub-treasury scheme. George will decline to be bound by any such instructions, and it is expected that his defeat cannot be accomplished.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 3.—There is but a short ticket in today's election, but three officers to be elected, that of supreme judge and first and second regents of university. For judge J. E. Broady is the Democratic candidate and A. M. Fort the Republican. The blanket ballot law is being tried for the first time.

There has been a spirited contest over the mayorality of this city, the candidates being George P. Bemis, Republican, and Henry Ostoff, Democrat.

In Virginia.

RICHMOND, Nov. 3.—Notwithstanding Mahone's appeal for a policy of total inactivity a number of Republican legislative candidates have been nominated in this state. There is no doubt, however, that the legislature will be overwhelmingly Democratic. As the result is a foregone conclusion slight interest is manifested in the election.

Female Voters in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The election here acquires a peculiar interest from the fact that a large number of women have registered and propose to vote for school commissioner. Judge Tuley has decided that they are entitled to do so under the new law. The right is denied by some of the election authorities, and the women propose to test the question at the polls.

CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS.

Eight Vacancies in the House of Representatives to Be Filled.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—There are eight vacancies in the house of representatives. Four of the vacancies occur in the New York delegation alone, one by death (General Spaulding) and three by resignation. The death of General Lee makes one vacancy in the Virginia delegation, that of Mr. Ford one in the Michigan delegation.

The other vacancies by death are those of Mr. Gamble, in South Dakota, and Mr. Houk, in Tennessee. Seven of these vacancies will be filled in to-day's elections. A successor to General Lee will be chosen later in the month.

THE AUSTRALIAN SYSTEM.

Twenty-Six States Have Adopted That Manner of Voting.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3.—The Australian ballot was first tried in Connecticut and Montana, then a territory, in the October elections of 1889. In November of the same year, Rhode Island and Massachusetts joined them, making four states using the system that year. In 1890, nine additional states—Indiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Tennessee, Washington and Wisconsin—adopted the new system of voting. The use of a party device in addition to the name of the political party was first adopted by Indiana, and to New York belongs the questionable honor of introducing the paster. The voter, with this in his pocket, can go to a booth, fasten the paster anywhere on the official ballot and be sure that it will be counted. New Jersey allows the paster ballot to be printed by each party at the public expense.

This year thirteen more states will try the Australian system. They are: Arkansas, California, Delaware, Illinois, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Vermont, West Virginia and Wyoming. The latter state adopted the system while it was still a territory; but as it has recently been admitted into the Union it now holds its first election under this system, as a state. Arkansas, like Missouri, erases all the names not voted for. All of the other states named above require the voter to make a cross opposite the names or the party groups for which he wishes to vote. Michigan and Ohio allow party devices. The voters of West Virginia may vote by secret or open ballot as they choose.

TRAVELERS' PERILS.

THE WORK OF TRAIN WRECKERS.

Prompt Action on the Part of the Engineer Prevents a Horrible Calamity—A Similar Occurrence on the Chicago and Northwestern—Other Railroad Accidents.

ALTON, Ill., Nov. 3.—As the train on the Chicago and Alton, due here at 9:17 Saturday evening, approached the station at Wann, four miles south of this place, it ran into an open switch and the engine and baggage car were derailed and damaged to the extent of $2,000. By prompt action on the part of the engineer, Spreen, a disastrous wreck was averted. The train consisted of three chair cars, four sleepers, besides smoker, baggage car and with 200 passengers.

There is no doubt that the accident was the result of a deliberate attempt to wreck the train as the "hummer," a local train, had passed all right but a short time previously, and none of the railroad employees had been near the switch subsequently. The switch lights were found to be out.

Governor Fifer was on the train, and the theory is advanced that the attempt was made for the purpose of doing him injury. The train was delayed about five hours.

Train Wreckers Foiled.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Nov. 3.—At a point about a mile south of Oconto, an attempt was made to wreck the south-bound passenger train over the Chicago and Northwestern railway yesterday. Three men were seen moving the spikes and fish plates holding one of the rails. Hurrying back the man signaled the passenger train, and the engineer succeeded in stopping the engine just as the front trucks left the track where the rails had been spread. At the point the wreckers had selected for the discovery, a terrible wreck and loss of life would have resulted. The train was delayed three hours.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.

DANVILLE, Va., Nov. 3.—At an early hour yesterday morning a northbound freight train on the Richmond and Danville road collided with several coal cars which were being pushed across the iron bridge spanning Dan river at this point. The collision occurred on the bridge and the shock was so great that one span of the bridge, the engine and four cars were precipitated into the river below, a distance of forty feet.

Four men went down in the wreck. J. E. Royall, conductor, had his right arm and his left leg broken. J. P. Wingate, engineer, had his right arm broken and was cut about the head. Will Queensberry, brakeman, had both legs broken, and O. C. McKinney was seriously injured internally.

Engines Collide.

BRISTOL, Tenn., Nov. 3.—Two freights on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia road ran into each other thirteen miles east of Knoxville and were badly wrecked. The two engines were demolished and a number of cars burned. Brakeman Mayer Falley and a tramp were killed.

The bicycle has become almost as popular in Germany as it is in the United States. The German Union of Bicyclists now has over 1,400 members.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1891.

The Kangaroo is jumping in Ohio today. We expect to hear a good report from him.

The campaign in Ohio is over, and one thing that stands out prominently is the fact that Governor Campbell's course throughout was straightforward and honorable. He didn't try to smirch the character of his opponent, but gave his time to the discussion of the questions of the hour. He deserves to win.

An exchange says: "Lexington has added more than one thousand new houses to her tax duplicate during the season just ending; has paved a number of her principal streets with brick, and will put several others in the same condition next spring."

And most of this building was done by her own citizens—men who are engaged in adding to their own wealth and at the same time to the wealth of their city. They have faith in Lexington, notwithstanding the city is burdened with a municipal debt of nearly $500,000.

The New York Sun's trade mark is "If You See It In the Sun It's So." Not long ago the paper published an article reflecting upon the character of a certain individual. The injured party sued, and was awarded $1,000. The Sun had published a retraction of the article, but the jury thought the fact that it claims to give nothing but the truth was sufficient grounds for damages. Here was one instance at least where the trade mark of the Sun didn't hold true, and where that paper had to pay dearly for its boastful claims to infallibility.

If those people of Maysville who have the means and are able to encourage industrial enterprises would do so, they could double the population of the city in the next few years and add largely to their own wealth. There are a few who own all the good unimproved land in the suburbs and they are the ones who would reap benefits financially from an increase in the city's population. There is not much demand for this land now for building purposes and never will be unless more people are brought here and given employment. And its value will never increase much unless you create a demand for it.

The business of making the postal money order blanks has lately been transferred from the American Bank Note Company of New York to Dunlap & Clark of Philadelphia. The contract amounts to several thousand dollars per month, and under the law bids for it have to be advertised for. The New York company has been the successful bidder up to this last time, when it again put in its bid. Although it was the lowest the Postmaster-General refused to make the award and re-advertised. The New York company entered a protest and refused to bid again and accordingly the contract was awarded to their Philadelphia competitors. Such is the story from the East. Of course, the action of the Postmaster-General has caused some very unfavorable comment, and it is now intimated there will be an investigation as soon as Congress meets.

When a trust is organized nowadays—and they are numerous—the first thing done is to lessen the product of the article it embraces, and then up goes the price. The increase in price may be only a few cents per pound, or per yard, &c., as the case may be, but when you make 60,000,000 people pay this increase it soon enriches the members of the trust. The increase is a tax on the people of the country for the benefit of a few individuals or corporations.

And the only way to lessen the product of the article embraced by the trust, factories have to be shut down or their working capacity reduced, thus throwing the laborers out of employment. Here's a case at hand. A special from Wheeling, W. Va., November 2nd, says: "It is authoritatively stated that the United States Glass Company, the big combine into which all the leading flint glass companies of the country have been merged, will, as soon as practicable, close all the flint glass mold shops with the exception of three. This will throw fully 75 per cent. of all the mold-makers out of employment."

The glassware controlled by this trust will soon advance in price. Mark that. The object in throwing these mold-makers out of employment is to lessen the supply of the goods they make, and give the trust an excuse for selling the output a little higher.

THOMPSON VS. COMMONWEALTH.

Mention was made last week that the Superior Court had reversed the case of the Commonwealth versus Thompson. The defendant was convicted and fined $400 and sent to jail six months for cutting and wounding Dick Harris at the Germantown fair in 1890. In its opinion the Superior Court says:

First—The defendant was entitled to a continuance on account of the absence of witnesses whose attendance he had used due diligence to procure, although the absent witnesses would have testified to the same facts which those present testified to, as the testimony related to a question of identity, upon which it was not proper to confine the defendant to the testimony of two or three witnesses.

Second—As a subpoena for witnesses in an adjoining county was placed by the defendant in the hands of the Sheriff of that county one week before the trial there was proper diligence.

Third—Under an indictment for malicious cutting and wounding it was proper to allow the prosecuting witness to testify that he was acting as one of the police at the fair where the cutting was done, for although he was not an officer he was in good faith assuming to act as such, and the testimony was competent to show why he was at the place and approached the defendant, thus tending to disprove malice on his part. And while the court should have instructed the jury that the testimony was not competent for any other purpose, its failure to do so is not under all the evidence reason for a reversal.

Fourth—The court did not err in modifying the ordinary instruction as to self-defense by adding the words, "But the court further instructs the jury that if they believe from all the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that the accused began the difficulty in which Harris was cut, and caused said Harris to reasonably believe that he was then in immediate danger of loss of life or great bodily harm at the hands of defendant, then defendant lost his right of self-defense, and it was then his duty to desist from the contest or difficulty, and in good faith abandon the same before his right of self-defense could be restored to him." As there was evidence to base the instruction upon, and it is sufficiently explicit, the case of Allen vs. Commonwealth 86 Kentucky, 646, does not apply.

This is jubilee year with the Church of the Disciples at Mayslick, it having been just fifty years since their first church was built. Now that they have a new and beautiful temple, it should be with them a season of great public joy and festivity.

After taking in a Presidential reception at the National Capitol, our bridal tourists embarked on the steamer Washington, steamed down the Potomac into Chesapeake Bay to Old Point Comfort, where they were met by the C. and O. route, taking in Richmond, and reaching home Tuesday evening, October 27th. An impromptu reception was given Mr. and Mrs. James H. Grigsby, Jr., at the Grigsby House. They are now at home, happy to greet and entertain their friends.

Wednesday evening, October 28th, after sixteen evenings continuance the Hall-Degman revival series of meetings closed, numbering twelve conversions and fifteen accessions to the church of the Disciples. Our preachers had cozy quarters at the Grigsby House and were elaborately dined each day by their friends in the country. Dr. Hall's address to the new converts was liberal and orthodox. He said he hoped he had not made any one ideated, narrow sectarian of the "four-and-no-more" tribe; but broad-minded, charitable, christian men and women, who would love all good people in and out of the church. A handsome collection was taken up for our visiting evangelist.

FAIRVIEW.

Church of the Disciples repainted and handsomely papered, limestone pavement in front and a protracted meeting in progress; Elder John Steele Sweeney, the famous debater of Paris, in charge. Have heard two of his sermons—one from 12th chapter of Romans, subject: "A Living Sacrifice"; the other from Timothy 11th chapter, forty-fifth verse, subject: "The Christian Armor." House crowded on both occasions. He spoke from twenty-five to forty-five minutes. He is rapid in his utterance, and you have to keep an eye on him as you would on a fast trotter to catch his salient points or absorb his pathetic stories. He is full of geniality and good will, seeming to have forgotten all the animosities of the late debate.

WONDERFUL GOLD.

What May Be Done With a Single Grain of It
[Philadelphia Times.]

Gold is so very tenacious that a piece of it drawn into wire one-twentieth of an inch in diameter will sustain a weight of 500 pounds without breaking.

Its malleability is so great that a single grain may be divided into 2,000,000 parts and a cubic inch into 9,523,809,523 parts, each of which may be distinctly seen by the naked eye. A grain and a half of gold may be beaten into leaves of one inch square, which, if intersected by parallel lines drawn at right angles to each other and distant only the one hundredth part of an inch, will produce 25,000,000 little squares, each of which may be distinctly seen without the aid of a glass.

The surface of any given quantity of gold, according to the best authorities, may be extended by the hammer 310,814 times. The thickness of the metal thus extended appears to be no more than the 566,020th part of an inch. Eight ounces of this wonderful metal would gild a silver wire of sufficient length to extend entirely around the globe.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Weekly Review of Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

The offerings at auction for the week were 2,067 hds, classed as follows: 614 hds Mason County (Ky.) District; 467 hds Pendleton County (Ky.) District; 180 hds Owen County (Ky.) District; 218 hds Blue Grass (Ky.) District; 589 hds Brown County (O.) District, and 4 hds West Virginia, against 2,165 hds the previous week and 2,897 hds corresponding week last year. Total offerings for year to date 102,404 hds, against 102,229 hds same time last year.

Receipts for the week.....2,067
Receipts same week last year.....1,299

The offerings were somewhat smaller than previous week, as were also the receipts. The monthly report will show a very marked decrease in stock—over 3,000 hds. There was, as a whole, only fairly active market during the week, the breaks being composed largely of common trashes, lugs and nondescripts, still there was a steady demand for this kind at prices that were generally accepted. Common and medium leaf and red unchanged from former reports, the demand being inactive and prices low. What little good and fine leaf or those grades with color were offered met with an active demand and sold at full prices.

Of the 2,067 hds 615 sold from $1 to $3.95, 694 from $4 to $5.35, 338 from $6 to $7.95, 131 from $8 to $9.85, 160 from $10 to $14.75, 113 from $15 to $19.75, 17 from $20 to $23 and 1 at $25.75.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Furnished by Glover & Durrett, proprietors, Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 2,351 hds, with receipts for the same period of 502 hds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 138,245 hds. Sales of the crop of 1890 on our market to this date amount to 96,601 hds.

The offerings of the week have embraced a few hogheads of burley tobacco the growth of this year, but in quality it failed to come up to the high standard attributed to the crop and the prices realized for the few hogheads of the new tobacco have been lower than former reports, the demand being inactive and prices low. What little good and fine leaf or those grades with color were offered met with an active demand and sold at full prices.

McGinty at Minneapolis.

A good thing never grows old. This is the reason why "McGinty's Troubles" goes with such a whirl of fun and excitement. Enthusiasm is the only word to describe the state of the people who witnessed this comedy at the Bijou last night. There is a roar of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Not the kind of laughter that comes from the gallery, but the guffaw that convulses the entire house from top to bottom. All the music, features, dances and medleys are new.—Minneapolis (Minn.) Daily Gazette, February 4, 1891.

"McGinty's Troubles" will be the drawing card at the opera house Thursday night. Tickets now on sale at Nelson's. See advertisement for rates of admission.

NOT GUILTY.

Such Is the Verdict in the Sullivan Trial—Other Circuit Court News.

"We the jury find the defendant not guilty as charged in the indictment."

This is the verdict in the case of the Commonwealth against Augustus Sullivan, indicted for the murder of Thomas Brothers a year ago last February.

The trial was commenced a week ago to-day. The case was argued by L. W. Robertson, Esq., and Hon. W. H. Wade, worth for defendant and Hon. C. J. Bronston, of Lexington, and County Attorney Newell for the State. Mr. Newell closing yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The verdict was reported at 5 o'clock, the jury being out an hour and a half. It is learned they stood eleven to one for acquittal on the first ballot. Mr. F. M. Markwell being the one who favored conviction. The other members of the jury were: R. S. Hudson, B. F. Wallingford, E. W. Thomas, James Robertson, J. W. Lawson, L. H. Crane, W. T. Hendrix, O. L. Hinton, D. T. Faris, J. D. Barnes and J. L. Overly. As heretofore stated they were all from Fleming County.

This was the third trial of the case. The first resulted in a hung jury, eleven of them favoring a severe penalty and one acquittal. On the second trial, the jury found the defendants guilty, and fixed Samuel C. Sullivan's punishment at eleven years in the penitentiary, while his father's punishment was fixed at five years. At this term of court, the defendants were granted a separate trial, the son's coming first and resulting in his conviction of manslaughter, the punishment being fixed at two years in the penitentiary.

In the court this morning Picket and Best Gault were fined $20 each for disturbing a public entertainment.

Evolution of the Tomato.

No vegetable has undergone a greater development in the last generation than the tomato, says the New York Sun. Persons who still esteem themselves young will remember the time when the only tomatoes to be seen were the small round or oval ones, called love apples, and deemed inedible. They seem to have been appropriated for table use first in this country, for an old European traveler tells how he astonished his fellow diners at a continental table d'hôte by eating the tomatoes placed on the table purely as garnitures.

Do not think that your business card stamped on the wrapper of the goods you sell will take the place of a newspaper advertisement. The object of the advertising is to secure new customers. You should keep your old customers by your manner of dealing with them. The fisherman baits his hook for the fish that are still in the water; not for those he has pulled into the boat.—Printers' Ink.

For the Farmer.

Says one of the ablest financial papers in this country: "This is a prosperous year, especially for the farmers, and those who are wise among them will use their surplus earnings—first, in paying off any existing obligations; second, in the improvement of their farms and buildings. These are two absolutely safe investments."

Now that the corn-feeding season has come, care should be taken to provide fattening hogs with charcoal. Its alkali helps correct the acidity of stomach which often makes fattening hogs' teeth rot when they are fed all they will eat of corn on the cob. It is not the hardness of the grain that does this. Soft corn makes sore teeth, though it may be very easily ground with the teeth. The seat of the trouble is in the stomach, and wood ashes and charcoal are the cure. The charcoal also probably furnishes some nutrition. It is nearly pure carbon, and the same chemically as the starch of corn or other grain largely composed of starch. Burned corn on the cob is an excellent way to feed charcoal to pigs.—Exchange.

Says an exchange: "Pittsburg coal men are becoming exceedingly anxious for rain, as the landings are all full of loaded coal craft, and besides they have a good deal of their available capital locked up in the black diamonds."

It is reported that work on the Iron Queen, the new packet being built at Marietta for the Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet Line, is being pushed forward with the utmost rapidity in order to take advantage of the mild weather, and the boat is far nearer completion than her projectors anticipated.

NEW YORK, October 19.—The New York Herald has startled its companions of the press by the announcement of a free discussion of the question of the times—"The Silver question." Their columns are open. It matters not, either silver, gold or currency will suit Frank Owens Hardware Company for all goods in hardware, guns, ammunition, coal vases or anything else.

SAYS the Paris Kentuckian: "Rev. Dr. John S. Hays, of Maysville, the blind minister, who had been attending the Presbytery at Lexington, was on our train the other day. It was beautiful to behold the devotion of his lovely wife. He said: 'Colonel, you can say we were especially lucky in securing as music teacher the services of Miss Maria Spears, daughter of your banker. We are delighted with her, both as teacher and as member of our household.'"

NO NEWS FROM CHILI.

Nothing Official Received at Washington.

SECRETARY TRACY'S VIEWS.

He Thinks There is Nothing Alarming in the Present Situation—A Note from the Chilean Minister—No Rash Movement Contemplated by the Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—In answer to a newspaper correspondent General Tracy said last night: "There is nothing new or alarming in the Chilean business. Everything will, I think, be satisfactorily settled. This is the general impression in this city. Our government, however, will be as conciliatory as possible in conducting the negotiations with the South American republic."

Chilean Minister Heard From.

The Chilean minister at Washington has sent the following communication to the department of state: "I regret to inform you of a revolt of a division of the navy of the republic of Chili in the port of Valparaiso on the 7th of this month. My government has declared the revolted squadron outlawed, and instructs me to inform you that it is not answerable for the acts of the rebels in regard to foreigners or citizens."

Will Do Nothing Rash.

"The president and the cabinet are not going to handle this Chilean matter like a lot of hot-headed boys," said a cabinet officer yesterday. "And all reports that they are contemplating any rash or sensational move is sheer nonsense, and only worthy of sensational mongers. The president and his cabinet are handling the case in a firm and judicious manner. They have made their demand upon Chili and are bound to wait a reasonable time for that government to answer. But it will stand no trifling, and unless Chili does answer in the time given she will find the United States ready to protect her interests."

Chili Willing to Settle.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A dispatch from Valparaiso says that the presidency has been offered to Jorge Montt and that congress will reopen Nov. 16. All political prisoners have been released. The excitement is fast dying out and it is believed that the government is now willing to settle all claims made by foreigners who have been injured.

Two War Ships Already En Route.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The corvette Kearsage and the Philadelphia have sailed for Fort Thomas. Both ships will report for further instructions. Developments in the Chili quarrel may then lead to one or both of the vessels being ordered to Valparaiso.

STARVING RUSSIANS.

Harrowing Story from the Province of Samara—Other Foreign News.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3.—A harrowing story comes from the province of Samara. The peasants are so reduced by starvation and want that many of them are unable to go even to the government distributing points for supplying food. In one village no less than forty-two have perished, and the number of dead in the whole province will amount to not less than a thousand.

The survivors in most instances are too weak to attend the burial of the departed, and officials are compelled, much against their will, to inter the remains. Samara is also visited by typhus fever, which is playing havoc with those who have managed to survive the famine.

Farmer Mysteriously Murdered.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A mysterious murder is reported from Monaghan, Ireland. A farmer from the neighboring county went to Monaghan to attend a fair. Upon going to his lodgings, where he intended to stay for the night, he was seen to enter into a dispute with some one. No one appears to have witnessed the end of the dispute except the disputants, but the farmer was found dead, stabbed to the heart. Two Italians, a husband and wife who were in the town as wandering musicians, have been arrested on suspicion of the crime.

Railroad Wreck in Roumania.

VIENNA, Nov. 3.—A fearful railway accident is reported from Roumania. The rails were removed at a perilous place on the line between Jassy and Paskian, and the express train reaching the spot at full speed became an almost total wreck. Four persons were killed and twenty injured. The persons guilty of removing the rails have not yet been captured.

Farther Outbreaks Feared in China.

HONG KONG, Nov. 3.—The Taoti of Wuku, who was degraded at the instance of the foreign consuls for instigating the riots of last May, has returned to Wuku in triumph. The leading people of the place presented him with umbrellas and scrolls of honor. Farther outbreaks against foreigners are apprehended in various places.

Collision of Steamers.

HAMBURG, Nov. 3.—A serious collision occurred here yesterday between two British steamers, the Ottoway and the Kaiser. The Ottoway was struck by the Kaiser amidships, but did not sink, and succeeded in running ashore. The Kaiser was also seriously damaged. No lives were lost.

Horrible Crime in Poland.

WARSAW, Nov. 3.—A frightful crime has occurred at Oswiec, Poland. A Jewish timber merchant and his entire family of twelve were murdered by robbers, and the house robbed and set on fire, and the bodies burned.

Mrs. Parnell's Recovery Doubtful.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A report comes from Brighton that Mrs. Parnell's condition is one of such complete prostration as to make her recovery doubtful.

Frosts in England.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Sharp frosts has appeared in England, and snow has fallen in the vicinity of Hamburg.

NARROWLY AVERTED.

A Powder Explosion from Incendiarism at Clarksburg, W. Va.

CLARKSBURG, Nov. 3.—A fiendish attempt to destroy a large amount of property was made here early Monday morning by some person firing a car loaded with a merry-go-round, which was standing amid a large number of other cars loaded with merchandise—oil, powder, etc.—in the Baltimore and Ohio freight yard at this city. The fire was discovered by Ticket Agent Towles, who, unassisted, moved the car containing the powder from the end of the burning mass, and averted an explosion, after which he gave the alarm. The yard is situated in a thickly settled portion of the suburbs, and had it not been for Towles' forethought, probably great loss of life would have resulted. The merry-go-round and car are a total loss, amounting to about $2,500.

MORE CONVICTS RELEASED.

Two Hundred More Prisoners Liberated From the Tennessee Mines.

KNOXVILLE, Nov. 3.—At 1 o'clock Monday morning 200 mounted men came in from the mountains and liberated the 200 convicts working in the mines at Oliver Springs. So quietly was it done that the people of the town knew nothing about what had happened until 6 o'clock in the morning, when they discovered that the stockade of lessees was a mass of smoking ruins.

All of the short term prisoners were furnished with citizens' clothing, and with the exception of a few who were captured, all are now at large. This makes more than 500 penitentiary convicts turned loose in that locality since Friday evening. The governor of the state was here yesterday, but left for Nashville.

Alabama Forest Burning.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 3.—A forest fire about a mile west of Vernon has been burning since Thursday morning, and its path is now about a mile wide. Clouds of smoke are seen from the town rising from the forest. Several farmers have suffered already great loss in the way of fencing and timber lands and there is much danger to residences and farms. The flames have been fanned by a strong wind and have been beyond all human control. Another forest fire is reported in Coosa county, spreading rapidly toward the river, the fire burning houses and barns on its way. There has been no rain in several months.

Booze Breeds Bloodshed.

DEMLER, Pa., Nov. 3.—A riot occurred Sunday near West Netton between a lot of coal workers and Italians. The Italians had liquor, and were visited by the cokers. A fight ensued and both parties were badly cut up. Two of the Italians followed the cokers to their homes, and while attempting to break into their house were fired upon. One of the Italians was shot in the shoulder and the other through the stomach. Both will die.

Killed Her Husband in Self-Defense.

BROAD RIPPLE, Ind., Nov. 3.—Sunday Aleck Scott, colored, got drunk and commenced abusing his wife. He split a two-inch board over her head. She escaped and made her way to the home of her brother-in-law, where she secured an old musket with which she returned home and fatally shot her husband. The authorities refuse to prosecute her, claiming the shooting was in self-defense.

An Old Brute White Capped.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 3.—William Bowman, aged fifty, living twenty miles southwest of here, outraged his ten-year old granddaughter last Thursday. Saturday night fifty masked men tied him to a tree, beating him insensibly with hoop-poles. His condition is critical. The girl will recover.

Two Ladies Killed in a Runaway.

LIMA, O., Nov. 3.—Yesterday afternoon while Mrs. Keifer and Mrs. Johnson were driving in the country their horse took fright, and running away, dashed down a sixty-foot embankment, wrecking the carriage and killing both ladies.

Boy Accidentally Shot.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Nov. 3.—Ernest Hauser shot and instantly killed Arthur Anderson Sunday. The boys are about sixteen years old and were around Anderson's boathouse on the shore of the lake arranging decoys for duck shooting. Hauser shot at a bird on the boathouse. Just then Anderson came around the corner and received the full charge in the neck. Hauser is now in jail. Mrs. Anderson became insane. Her husband also lost his life by accident. He was drowned at Grand Rapids, Mich., four years ago.

Fire in a Tobacco Factory.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—At 9:15 Monday morning the drying room of the four-story building of the Lorillard tobacco factory on Washington street, Jersey City, caught fire, and was not extinguished until about $50,000 damage to the stock and building had been done. For some time there was somewhat of a panic among the girl operatives, but all got out in safety. Beyond a few bruises no one was hurt.

This Does Settle It.

MANDAN, N. D., Nov. 3.—Persons living here have just secured possession of the cabin in which Sitting Bull spent the last years of his life and in which he was killed last winter. It is their intention to take it to the world's fair and exhibit it. World's Fair Commissioner P. B. Wickham, of this county, says that the men who have the cabin paid for it $1,000, a two-year-old steer and two silk dress patterns.

Fatal Political Quarrel.

XENIA, O., Nov. 3.—Low Kline, an old soldier, and J. C. Meyers, an ex-convict, who was recently released from the Ohio penitentiary, became involved in a political quarrel on the streets here last night and Kline was shot in the abdomen by Meyers, who made his escape and has not yet been arrested.

Murdered and Robbed.
